

Starfall

www.starfall.com

First up is Starfall! This one is geared more toward younger children who may still be learning how to read. The site starts off with teaching a simple concept of learning letters and how to pronounce them. It then goes on to offer some interactive reading, word search puzzles and it even has some school plays you can watch.

Fact Hound

www.facthound.com

This site is a nice search engine to lead you to the information you need for your homework.

Book Adventure

www.bookadventure.org

Are you looking for the perfect book to read? This site will help you find exactly what you're interested in reading.

Creating Music

www.creatingmusic.com

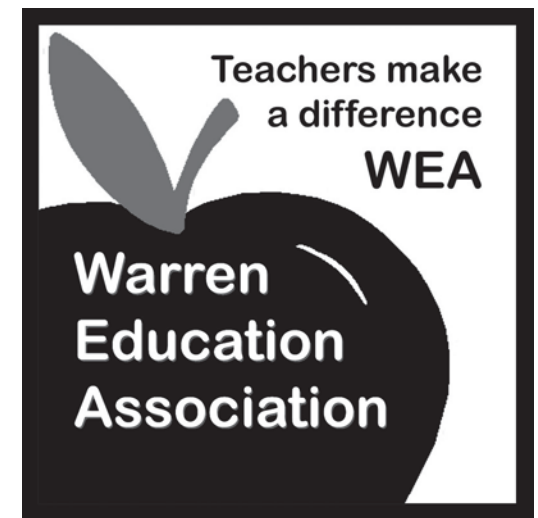

Do your kids love music? On this site, children can compose and play their own music. How awesome is that?! It's very easy to use and with just a couple clicks, they can write their own music and even add in different musical instruments as they wish. For example, if they want to add in a brass instrument, they can easily do so. They can even alter the tempo themselves or play their music backwards for a fun new sound.
